

GOLF LESSON TREAT

LIM FUNG KEE

(1972 MUNICH OLYMPICS & PRO FOOTBALLER)

IN 2001 I was introduced to Tan Yee Khan by his brother Yee Loong.

I was in Ipoh as manager of Hong Kong's Happy Valley Club. We were to play the Perak team in an AFC Club championship match.

The following day Yee Khan invited me over for a round of golf at the Tiger Lane course.

After observing me over five holes, he graciously corrected my faults.

He corrected my tee-off, telling me I was applying too much pressure on my club.

He noticed that the muscles on my hand were taut and asked me to relax.

He gave me good advice in selecting the right irons to gain distance and to check the front and back of the green before going in to putt.

All this was an eye opener for me and it helped improve my game.

After the "professional" golf lesson, Yee Khan treated me to lunch.

All this I received from a man I only met a day before.
